

Swiss Express Index Part 2 : Editions 61 to 124 (January 2000-December 2015)

Part 1, which covered issues 1 to 60 (January 1985 to December 1999), included an explanation of the principles used in providing this two-part index to Swiss Express. The only key difference for Part 2 is that the definition of a "major" article is taken to mean either one of more than 4 pages in A5 format or one of more than 2 pages in the subsequent A4 format. Not that too much should be read into that because in the A4 era pictures are larger and more plentiful than in the early years so the text in such cases may not be very long. Another trend in the magazine has been to use eye-catching titles. Although these make for a livelier read and are often (intentionally) amusing, they do not always encapsulate what the related articles are about so to aid identification in such cases this Index uses less imaginative headlines instead.

Incidentally, the first edition to use some colour was Issue 21 (Vol 2 No 9). From Issue 71 (Vol 6 No 11) every edition had some colour and full colour appears to have been adopted from Issue 85. The magazine was produced in A4 format from Issue 105. The December 2007 edition was inadvertently labelled Issue 76 - it was in fact Issue 92.
